

NZ Geotechnical Society concept design COMPETITION

time to get your creative thinking caps on!
we need you to sketch a new logo for the New Zealand Geotechnical Society. The new logo will be: identifiable, intelligent, eye-catching and sympathetic to the Society's objectives*. come on – have a go!

The winning entry will be prepared professionally, and the winner will receive

$500

existing NZGS logo

THE OBJECTIVES OF THE SOCIETY ARE:

- To advance the education and application of soil mechanics, rock mechanics and engineering geology among engineers and scientists.
- To advance the practice and application of these disciplines in engineering.
- To implement the statutes of the respective International Societies in so far as they are applicable in New Zealand.
- To ensure that the learning achieved through the above objectives is passed on to the public as is appropriate.

ENTRIES close 5pm on the 31st March 2010

SEND ENTRIES TO Amanda Blakey, Management Secretary, 81 Esperance Road, Glendowie or email secretary@nzgs.org

Hand drawn submissions and/or electronic submissions can be submitted. You do not need to be a member to enter. The judging panel will be the NZGS Management Committee and no correspondence will be entered into. The NZGS reserves the right to reject all of the submissions. The winning logo will become the property of the NZGS.

visit our new site: www.nzgs.org